

The Reindeer who helped santa”

By Duncan James Maltby

Once upon a time, in a cozy stable nestled in the North Pole, lived a small reindeer named Rudy.

Rudy was a very special
reindeer, with a bright, glowing red nose that
twinkled like a star.

His best friend was a kind and jolly snowman named Frosty, who always had a warm
smile.

One chilly Christmas Eve, Santa Claus looked very worried. "Oh dear!" he sighed.

"My sleigh is stuck in a thick, snowy drift! We can't deliver the presents!"

Rudy and Frosty heard Santa's plea and hurried over to help.

"Don't worry, Santa!" said Rudy, his red nose glowing brighter.

"We will help you pull the sleigh!"

Frosty, with his big carrot nose, also offered to push from behind.

Together, Rudy pulled with all his might, his sturdy little legs pushing against the snow.

Frosty pushed and pushed, his round body rolling and swaying.

It was hard work, but they didn't give up.

Rudy's glowing red nose lit up
the path, guiding them
through the deep snow.

Slowly but surely, the sleigh began to budge. "Hooray!"
cheered Santa.

With one final push and pull,
the sleigh was free! Santa clapped his hands with joy.

"Thank you, Rudy! Thank you, Frosty! You saved Christmas!"

Rudy felt so proud, his red nose shimmering with happiness.

Frosty gave a big thumbs-up,
his twig arms wiggling.

Santa quickly loaded the presents, and the sleigh was ready to go.

Rudy and Frosty waved goodbye as Santa soared into the night sky.

They watched as the sleigh,
pulled by the other reindeer, disappeared into the stars.

Rudy's red nose continued to glow, warming the stable with its light.

Frosty stood beside him, a

Christmas Eve
Mon	Tues	Wednes	Thurs	Fri	Sat	Sun
					1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29	30	31

They knew they had done a very important job.

Every Christmas Eve, Rudy
and Frosty would remember how they helped Santa.

And Rudy's bright red nose became a symbol of friendship and courage.
